SAINT OF THE WEEK

Meet St. Martin de Porres

- My Feast Day: November 3
- I am the patron saint of people of mixed races, barbers, and public health workers.
- My father left our family when I was young and we were extremely poor. I had to quit school to become a barber/surgeon.
- I wanted to become a Dominican, but my country (Peru) did not allow me because I was mixed race.
- After many years of working hard and waiting, I was allowed to become a lay brother and work in the Dominican hospital.
- I cared for everyone with utmost love and dignity, regardless of race or status.
- God granted me extraordinary abilities, such as flight, bilocation, instant cures, miraculous knowledge, spiritual knowledge and an excellent relationship with animals.
